

What to do on Mondays

Mondays in Poznań may be tricky. In a true european fashion most of museums and tourist attractions are closed. It would seem that the only way is to sleep it through. Nothing less right. Poznań offers great time even then!

The Old Town

Strongly beating heart of Poznań for almost 1000 years. It never sleeps and the variety of architectural styles is astonishing. Renaissance, baroque, belle epoque, modernism – it is all there. A walk along the densed net of tiny streets is a perfect idea for a romantic time.

Billy Goats

One of the symbols of the city are two billy goats. Their presence is surrounded by a legend and you can see them on the former Town Hall clock tower exactly at 12:00 noon. Only few steps from there, on the Plac Kolegiacki, the statue of goats cheers up those who missed the show.

Address : Rynek 1, Poznań (The Town Hall)

Fara Church

Monumental, magnificent baroque church, which is a part of the post-jesuit college. The interior will fascinate even those who have no idea about the history of art. Moreover, organ concerts at 12:15 pm can be encountered every day during the summer and every Saturday for the rest of year.
