

Bedlewo Palace

Bedlewo Palace is the Research and Conference Centre. It is a part of Mathematical Institute which belongs to the Polish Academy of Sciences.

Bedlewo Palace was built in a neo-Gothic style in 1866. The interiors of this palace were renovated in 1980s. Both the courtly outhouse and the high-tech part of the palace perform lodging and conference functions.

It is an ideal place to organize trainings, wedding receptions, socializing events and exterior meeting.