

Stay for the weekend

Check several unique reasons why it is worth staying in Poznań for the weekend 9-10 June 2018!

1. ETHNO PORT - ONE OF THE BEST MUSIC FESTIVALS IN THE WORLD

Ethno Port is often referred to as a „musical harbor” for acts from around the globe that are involved in creating ethnic sounds. One of the most prestigious magazines in the world dealing with this music - British Songlines - has already included Ethno Port several times among the 25 best world music festivals in the world. The prestigious During the 4 amazing days in June Poznań becomes filled with the inspirational sounds and vibes from basically each part of the world. During the festival one might also like to attend different types of workshops and/or meets and greets with musicians, cultural anthropologists as well as folk music experts.

2. LECH VISITORS CENTRE - THE LOCAL BEER WHICH TRADITION DATES BACK TO 1895

Have you ever wondered how long it takes to make LECH beer? What happens during the process of making the golden drink and what it looks like? What is hidden inside the tanks rising above Szwajcarska 11 in Poznań? All you need to satisfy your curiosity is a visit to Lech Visitors Centre.

A tour of the brewery is much different than your usual museum or movie trip. A lot happens here, and it is all happening in front of your very eyes. Owned by Kompania Piwowarska (Brewing Company), the Poznań brewery is one of the most state-of-the-art in Europe, and the brewers working here are highest class specialists. Just as the brewery is one of Poznań's flagships, the LECH Visitors Centre tour guides are the showcases of the brewery. They are highly professional staff who, apart from an excellent knowledge of the brewery's history and topography, also know everything about the various stages of beer production.

A visit to the pub and a beer tasting is the last stop of the tour of the brewery. A glass of beer straight from the heart of the brewery itself will be served by a skilled bartender who knows all the dos and don'ts of beer craftsmanship. We highly recommend the refreshing LECH PREMIUM or the regional LECH PILS. Welcome!

Tours are available in Polish, English and German
Only visitors over 18 are allowed.

3. ST JOHN'S FAIR - SEVERAL CENTURIES OF REGIONAL TRADITION

From 9th to 24th June Poznań's Old Market Square will be packed full antique, food and craft stalls as part of the traditional St John's week celebrations. There really is no better time to visit Poznań's old town than this.

Every day between June 9th and 24th, from 10am till 9pm, in Stary Rynek and Żydowska Street, over 100 stands and stalls await Poznań residents and tourists. The stalls are filled with unique handicraft items such as hand-made stuffed animals, pillows and pillow covers, as well as wooden and ceramic items. There will be a chance to observe the work of a potter and a blacksmith, and sculptors will make a three-meter-tall Slavic carving. Those interested in the art of handicraft can broaden their knowledge of the topic by participating in specially prepared painting, leather book-binding, knitting or doll-making demonstrations. As every year, there will also be something for the collectors of antiques, china, coins and stamps - all in stalls in Żydowska. Food items from Lithuania and the Polish region of Podlasie, such as breads and cold-cuts, have been enjoying great popularity for many years. The food stands will also be filled with pastries, fragrant spices, wax products, own-apiary honeys and other bee products, such as bee pollen and propolis.

4. PAMPER YOUR PALATE IN RESTAURANTS OF THE BEST CHEFS IN POLAND

Poznań is a city that can boast a group of nearly 40 best chefs in Poland and their restaurants, distinguished in the yellow guide Gault & Millau. The Gault&Millau Guide is one of the two most prestigious book series (the other being Michelin) which review the culinary market. The spot in the guide cannot be bought, and a visit from the assessing inspector cannot be scheduled in advance. The assessment system is based on points and chef's hats. The restaurants which find their way into the Yellow Guide have received a minimum of 10 out of 20 possible points. Having crossed that threshold, restaurants are additionally awarded between 1 and 5 chef's hats. In short, the more hats, the better the assessment from the Gault&Millau professionals. ## 10. THE ROYAL-IMPERIAL ROUTE

The Royal-Imperial Route is a trail of Poznań’s most fascinating sights. It offers a spectacle starring the city and the forty generations of people who have it constructed. The Route enables the viewer to witness the majesty of the millennium-old city of Poznań. It tells the story about “reaching for the crown” and succeeding in the pursuit of one’s plans. The Route is also an attempt to answer the key questions of why today’s Poznań looks the way it does and not differently. What is the mentality of Poznań residents and how was it formed? A stroll down the Route will be your chance to get to know the city. We guarantee that this chance is unlike any other you will ever encounter. See the 7 reasons why you should tour the Route and how to do it.
