The Host City: Poznań

Poznań is a dynamic city, where almost 1,100 years ago the Polish state emerged. Populated by 540,000 inhabitants, it is the 5th largest and most popular destination in Poland, located at the heart of Europe. Over 120,000 students make the city teem with life. International events play a vital role in the local economy, as, since 1921, Poznań has been host to the most prominent trade shows in the country, organized by Poznań International Fair-Poznań Congress Center, the largest exhibition and meetings organizer in Central-Eastern Europe. It combines a unique heritage with rich cultural offer, lively atmosphere and spirit of entrepreneurship.

Tourists and residents alike discover further emerging establishments, exchanging their impressions, and the chefs do their very best to satisfy the ever-growing expectations. In the city itself there are some 800 places that cater to the general public. They serve a range of dishes from all over the world, oriental, typical national European as well as vegan and vegetarian cuisine. Traditional Polish dishes are also available. Among them are almost 40 restaurants recommended by prestigious culinary Gault&Millau Poland Yellow Guide.

Poznań has its own airport, it is also a big railway hub. A motorway connects Poznań with Warsaw

(in a distance of about 300 km or less than 3 hours). The city is located at the crossroads of the one of the largest European transportation routes connecting Moscow with Berlin, Paris and Madrid and also Budapest and Prague with the Baltic coast and farther on with the Scandinavian Peninsula. This location of the city, which favours the coexistence of many nationalities and cultures, was conducive to Poznań being an important meeting place in Europe.

By plane

Poznań's main international airport is the Henryk Wieniawski Poznań Ławica Airport (POZ). The airport provides flight connections with multiple destinations, including important hubs in Copenhagen, Munich, Frankfurt Main and Warsaw. Beside regular connections with four European hubs, it also offers the services of low fare airlines and charter flights to other capital and major cities, like Madrid, Barcelona, London, Stockholm, Oslo, Dublin, Tel Aviv, Rome, Athens and more.

The taxi ranks are situated outside, next to the arrival terminal. The average fare from the airport to the city centre amounts to €5-7, while the single bus ticket costs €1.10.

Hotels

Poznan is a very compact city, therefore the diverse range of accommodation possibilities, from top 5-star hotels to modern and budget friendly hostels are mostly located comfortably within the city center. The standardization of 1 to 5 star hotels is something which will be widely used and accepted throughout Europe. Poznań offers over 130 accommodation possibilities with about 13,000 beds, most of which have been reviewed online allowing future guests to verify their quality and standard before arrival.

Most hotels which can be used by IWA Conference participants are located in the city centre.

Green City

Poznań offers excellent opportunities for relaxation among lakes and forests, as well as many attractions for the enthusiasts of active leisure. Greenery covers roughly 27% of the city's land area. Small and large green spaces can be found throughout the city, some of them deserving particular attention.

After hours

Poznan is a bustling city, also in the evening. Pubs, bars and clubs are full of people enjoying a local beer or a tropical drink. There are currently over 150 types of Polish beer, most of which can be tasted somewhere around the town. The summer time makes the city vibe specially awesome, when one can enjoy the Warta River area, Poznan City beaches, water activities (e.g. yachting), outdoor events, open air cinemas, street theatres or simply wander in the city.

Poznań is known and regarded for its shopping centres and shops. In its arcades and shopping centers, shoppers will find goods by producers known the world over and also locally-produced items.
